HISTOPATHOLOGY, FULL WRITTEN REPORT

Biopsy

CLINICAL INFORMATION:*SOURCE:

Left inguinal region.

DESCRIPTION/MICROSCOPIC FINDINGS/COMMENTS:*Microscopic Description:

Examined are 4 sections of skin and subcutaneous tissue derived from a single specimen. The dermis and subcutis are disrupted by a densely cellular mass of neoplastic melanocytic cells arranged in bundles, nests, and solid sheets, supported by a fibrovascular stroma. Tumor cells are spindle-shaped to polygonal, with moderate amounts of amphophilic cytoplasm that is sometimes lightly to moderately pigmented. Nuclei are round to oval, with variably-sized nucleoli. There is moderate anisocytosis and anisokaryosis. 47 mitotic figures are observed in ten hpf. Vascular or lymphatic invasion is not observed. Central areas of necrosis are present. The overlying epidermis is ulcerated. The mass extends to within less than 1 mm from the deep margin, and to within less than 1 mm, 6 mm, 6 mm, 7 mm from the lateral margins.

Microscopic Findings:

Melanoma.

Comment:

The lesion is identified as a melanoma. The lesion exhibits moderate atypia and high mitotic activity, consistent with a malignant melanoma. Locally invasive growth may occur, and there is the potential for metastatic spread. Consultation with an oncologist for discussion of treatment options is available through Antech Customer Service.

Shar Pei Adoption In Orlando Florida

Roger

Roger will be officially adopted on Friday, August 12, 2011

This is Roger. He is 4 years old. He is very shy in the beginning but will come to you for pets and kisses on the forehead soon enough. Roger does not like being hugged or kissed on the cheeks for he will back off and he does not like being up on the sofa or sleeping in bed with me. Roger enjoys sleeping in his own bed on the floor by my bed. He is a bit restless sometimes and will lay out side the bedroom on the ceramic tile floor and then will come back to his bed. Roger snores lightly.....it is just so cute to listen too. Roger has gone on the bed 2x to try to catch the cat but I have intervened though he is dedicated. He was very tolerant of her, "Miss Cleo", in the beginning but now it seems as if he wants to eat her???? LoL.....so I will say that he does not get along with cats....as of now at least.

Roger wants all to know that he was kept on a porch on cement and in a kennel for breeding purposes before he was rescued. Because of this he is missing some fur on his elbows and legs and his paw pads are a bit smooth. Roger prefers to walk on carpeting versus on a ceramic tile floor. His feet slide if he is standing on a bare floor. Carpet gives him his traction that he needs though he does well while walking on a smooth surface.....it is just when he is standing still. Roger has no problem out in the yard or on the sidewalks and he loves to play and roll around in the grass.

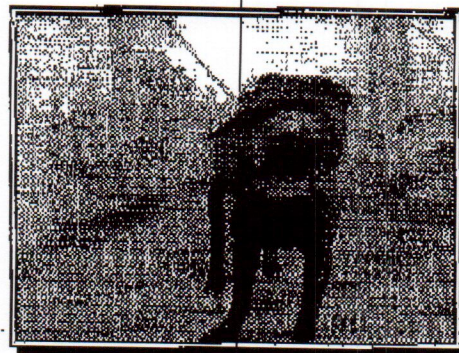

Roger definitely loves to be loved and he can be very mischievous after his shyness wears off. He will surprise you. Roger has been known to bring the laundry out from the bedroom or bathroom to the family room. I do not think that he wants to do the laundry for he is not the best housekeeper meaning he leaves crumbs by his dinner plate. Roger would suggest a hand held vac.

Roger is up for adoption on <http://www.floridasharpeirescue.com/>. Roger is looking for his forever home. Roger just wants someone to love him and wants to return your love. He will impress you quickly on how smart and lovable that he is. He has won many friends hearts already.
